YOUNG GIRL

Assaulted by a Negro in Kentucky Fellow Was Taken by Mob and Lynched on Thursday.

Nicholas, Ky., Feb. 6.—Miss Emma Powell a 15 year old student of the Jessamine Institute, in this city, today lies in a critical condition at her brother's home, three miles north of here, as the result of an assault upon her by a negro last evening.

When she arrived at the Braden home last evening Miss Powell alighted from the carriage and started to walk to the home of her brother, a distance of a half mile. While in a secluded spot the negro sprang upon her. When she arrived at home her condition was such that she could not give an account of what happened, but described her assailant.

In a half hour's time after her brother's arrival in this city a posse of 200 headed by Detective Peel, with his bloodhounds, was in hot pursuit of the fellow. Miss Powell is the daughter of the late Wm. Powell, at one time a leader of the Republican party in this district.

Tom Brown the negro who was partially identified last night by Miss Powell as her assailant, was taken against this morning to her home by Detective Peel, Sheriff Chrisman and a posse. ## MAYOR

Wants Akron Houses Painted in Harmony of Colors—Present Way He Says Causes Headache.

Akron, O., Feb. 6.—"The colors and combination of colors used in painting houses in Akron positively cause headaches," declares Mayor W. B. Doyle and he suggests that every city should have a commission to pass upon the color scheme planned by every person intending to paint any house or building in the city. The result, Mayor Doyle declares, would be a harmony in colors and a uniformity in painting which would add materially to the beauty of any city. Mayor Doyle is an art student and admirer of John Ruskin.

HILL

And Tammany Make Up—Hatchet Buried in Dinner to Color in New York.

New York, Feb. 6.—In an informal way, yet with more significance than is generally resultant from a so-called chance meeting Tammany Hall in the person of Lewis Nixon and the upstate Democrats, represented by former Senator David B. Hill last night buried the long-raised hatchet, shook the hand of renewed friendship and will work in harmony for a united party throughout the state.

This "chance" meeting of these two men who represent the two big political factions, which for more than eight years have been at swords points with each other, has been cleverly planned and is merely preliminary to a rousing big formal meeting of the local Democracy that has been arranged for late next month, at which the list of speakers will include not only Mr. Hill and Mr. Nixon, but some of Tammany's best oratorical timber, and besides Coler and Edward M. Shepard, representing the Kings county Democracy.

David B. Hill and Lewis Nixon smoked the pipe of peace last night at the dollar dinner given by a number of independent Democrats to former Comptroller Coler in Arion hall, Williamsburg. Both leaders accepted invitations to be present and their seats at the board were side by side. It is expected that Mr. Coler will be brought forward by his admirers as a candidate for governor.

BANQUETS

Were General Lessig's Delight and in Giving Them He Squandered a Huge Fortune.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 6.—Senator Culom, of Illinois, has introduced a bill granting an increase of pension to W. H. Lessig, formerly of Denver, and now residing in Chicago. General Lessig, as he was known in Denver, has suffered a reverse of fortune and is now living on $10 per month from the government. He served as Lieutenant Colonel of the Ninety-sixth regiment of Pennsylvania.

General Lessig was well known in Denver in the early days as the giver of princely banquets, a lover of literature and art and a man of the world in the broadest sense. He came to Colorado after the Civil war and employed most of his time in spending a great fortune which he brought with him. Banquets at which viands gathered at great expense from every part of the world were served, were in the nature of a mania with him. He had a collection of rare books and pictures gathered by him in touring Europe and the Orient and valued at $50,000.

General Lessig was a great student of the classics and he admired Homer's "Odyssey" above all other works. He called the banquets which he used to give "circle banquets." The great feature of each banquet was what he called champagne punch, which he would make in a washtub.

LIVES

SNUFFED OUT BY SERIES OF EXPLOSIONS

TWO BUILDINGS AT CHICAGO ARE WRECKED.

THIRTEEN PEOPLE ARE KILLED.

Butcher and Family of Six, Several Customers and Others Caught—Long List of Injured.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The bodies of eleven victims of last night's natural gas explosion in Archer avenue were taken from the ruins this morning. The search is being continued, but it is not thought that any more bodies will be found.

The dead are: Bernard Trostel, Otto Trostel, Mrs. Otto Trostel, Jr., Annie Trostel, Mamie Trostel, Fred Trostel, 25 years old, Trostel child, Sophie Kneip, 19 years old, Harry Rosenthal, unidentified man.

All of the bodies were found in the ruins of Trostel's meat shop and residence, where the first explosion occurred.

At 6 o'clock today all of the missing with the exception of one of Trostel's employees known only as Otto, had been accounted for.

An unknown corpse was identified later today as that of Otto Gierman, who was employed by Trostel.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—By an explosion of gas at the intersection of Twenty-second street and Archer avenue, 12 lives were lost, many people slightly injured, two buildings at 372 and 374 Twenty-second street were wrecked, and $50,000 damage done to property.

The cause of the explosion is unknown, and it has not yet been determined whether it was sewer gas or illuminating gas. Mains filled with the latter were instantly ablaze after the explosion, and a succession of explosions followed, the flames shooting up through the manholes. It will be difficult to ascertain whether the illumination gas exploded or whether the mains were broken by the explosion of sewer gas. Many people living in the vicinity believe the first explosion was in a main at Twenty-second street and Archer avenue.

The flames from the first gas main shot high into the air and reached, with the aid of the wind, the Trostel butcher shop. The building was a 4-story frame structure and it had been weakened and nearly wrecked by the shock. It is supposed that the occupants of the building were knocked unconscious or were too panic-stricken to rush from the place. The flames caught the weather-worn timbers. The dry and rotting wood was food for the fire and in an instant the flames had enveloped the structure. With a roar the building collapsed and the occupants, with one exception, were carried with it to the basement. The adjoining building, a 2-story structure, flared up, the next building was wrapped in flames, and then another structure caught fire. It seemed that the whole block would be wiped out before the firemen could bring the blaze under control. A fire wall of a brick building at the corner of Archer avenue and Twenty-second street held the fire in that direction. On the west of the burning buildings were two small factory cottages. They were a few feet from the burning buildings, and that gave the firemen an opportunity of heading off the fire.

Following is a list of the dead: Otto Trostel, 35, butcher; Mrs. Otto Trostel, 35; Otto Trostel Jr., 2; Lena Trostel, 7; Annie Trostel, 9; Mamie Trostel, 11; Fred Trostel, 23, butcher, nephew of Otto Trostel; Sophie Knight, domestic in Trostel family; Mary Rosenthal, 22; Mrs. M. Kaufert, Edward Kaufert, Mamie Kaufert, Andrew Kolb. The last of injured may be extended to 75 or 100, as there were many people who sustained slight injuries from flying glass or slight bruises by falls, but whose names have not been reported.

The direct cause of the explosion is not known, but all indications show that it was due to escaping gas in the basement of the Trostel house. The explosion came without an instant's warning. There was a dazzling flash, a deafening roar and a cloud of dust and shattered timber where the Trostel house had stood. On both sides of Archer avenue between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets every

Mrs. Soffel's Precarious Condition.

BUTLER, PA., Feb. 6.—This morning Mrs. Kate Soffel is in a weaker condition than at any time since her admission to the hospital. ## WEDDING

Of Secretary Hay's Daughter and Ex-Secretary Whitney's Son Takes Place at Washington.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Today at noon in the church of the Covenant, Helen Hay, eldest daughter of John Hay, Secretary of State, became the wife of Payne Whitney, second son of Wm. C. Whitney.

The ceremony was witnessed by the President, the entire diplomatic corps, representatives of the army and navy and hundreds of distinguished guests. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Tunis F. Hamlin assisted by Rev. H. C. Hayden of Cleveland.

The decorations were of white lilies, vines and palms, the exquisite flowers filling the church with their fragrance. Ropes of roses surrounded the section occupied by the Presidential party, and the aisles were likewise garlanded. The ceremony was of the simplest character and the costumes of the bride and her attendants were charmingly yet not elaborately effective. The bride being in mourning for her brother, Adelbert, her gown was in keeping with the conditions, being of plain white satin on train, a veil of tulle, caught with a spray of orange blossoms, falling to the hem. She wore neither lace nor jewels. Her maids, Miss Alice Hay and Miss Dorothy Whitney, were exquisitely gowned in pale grey crepe de chine over white tulle and wore picture hats of white felt, with ostrich plumes. They carried white roses, as did the bride. President Roosevelt toasted the bride at the breakfast. The room in which this part of the festivities took place was elaborately decorated with white roses as was every room in the house open to the guests. The gifts to the bride are said to be the most costly and numerous ever received in this city. The most notable was a magnificent diamond and pearl necklace given by Col. Oliver Payne, uncle of the groom.

In addition to this gift, Colonel Payne has presented the couple with a fine residence near his own on Fifth avenue, New York, and a country house at Tuxedo, completely furnished.

The couple will leave for the south on the evening train, traveling to Thomasville, Ga. They will later go to Europe. In the fall they will be at home in New York.

Only eight states do not now require examination by a State Board of those who wish to practice medicine. They are Arkansas, Colorado, Kentucky, Michigan, Nebraska, Nevada, South Dakota and Tennessee.

RESULT

AMOUNTS TO A POLITICAL REVOLUTION

OVERTHROW OF LANDLORDS BY THE ELECTION.

GREATLY EXCITES THE IRISH

Dublin, Feb. 6.—The Eastdown parliamentary election yesterday resulted in the choice of Woods, the independent candidate by a vote of 3,576. His opponent, Wallace, received 2,420 votes.

The successful candidate favors the radical scheme of wholesale compulsory land purchase for the whole of Ireland with a view to dispossessing the entire landlord class. The Eastdown district is one of the strongest Orange centers in Ireland and has heretofore returned landlord candidates by an overwhelming vote. The result therefore amounts to a political revolution.

While Woods is a Presbyterian unionist, he occupies nearly the same position as the Nationalists upon the land question. He was supported in his fight for the election by T. W. Russell, who gave up a cabinet office to fight the land question.

Wallace, the unsuccessful candidate, is an officer serving in South Africa. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain recently attacked Russell in order to assist Wallace, but merely succeeded in introducing more bitterness into the contest. The Nationalist and Unionist farmers, in favor of compulsory purchase, joined forces to elect Woods.

The Tory majority at the previous election was 2,332. Russell says the result marks a new era in Ireland. The Nationalists are jubilant over the result.

After the declaration of the poll, Russell and Woods were carried on the shoulders of the hilarious Unionists to a hotel where an ovation was tendered them. Russell, in expressing his joy over the victory of his candidate said: "We have beaten the Carleton club, the Landlords, the Balliffs and the Parliamentary dead-heads of Ulster and we have beaten the Government."

TROUBLE IS FEARED.

Belfast, Feb. 6.—The political overthrow of the Landlords by the election of the independent, Woods, from the Eastdown division has created the greatest excitement here. Trouble is feared tonight when the workmen quit work.

Many New Yorkers are already getting very much dissatisfied with the "reformers" of the new city administration. Hardly any of those who joined in the fusion crusade are getting what they voted for, and loud complaints are being made. For instance, those who expected the saloons to be closed on Sunday, find them as wide open as at any time for years. Not even a pretense has been made to close them. Such is New York's goodly reform.

Senator Teller has been made to see the disadvantage of assailing England for its cruelties and despotism in South Africa. He did so last week, and is met by a leading London paper with the retort as to Americans shooting Filipinos without the formality of a trial, just as Senator Teller accused the British of killing Boers. There is no getting away from the fact that our record in the Philippines shuts us out from passing deserved judgment on the British methods of conquest and subjugation in the Boer republics.

Congressman Norton made a very good point in his denunciation of the executive order prohibiting government employees from seeking salary advancements. The congressman insists that this Roosevelt mandate denies the right of petition and thereby is in violation of the constitution. He is supported in this opinion by temperate Republicans, who cannot help being amazed at the radical acts of the very much of a foolish attempt at dictatorship.

There are two counties in North Carolina, Mitchell and Yancey, in which there is not a negro inhabitant. No negro has ever been permitted to settle in these counties. Yet it is a little singular that they are the banner Republican counties of the state, and at the last presidential election cast 3,040 Republican votes to 1,445 Democratic, or more than two to one. This is one of the oddities of Southern Republican politics.

An exchange gives timely advice to the young when it says: Enter school with the intention of going to the top of the ladder while you are young. The time will come in after years when you will regret that you did not do your best. This also applies to business. When you start at a trade or profession aim high. It is better to miss the mark than to never attempt to gain it.

The more the country knows of the peculiarities and characteristics of President Roosevelt the more it sees and understands that while he is a very arbitrary individual, he is almost wholly lacking in the necessary firmness to carry out any distinct policy of his own.

Admiral Sampson's Plan.
(Washington Post.)
The navy department continues to harp on Admiral Sampson's "preconceived plan." Was it not the Admiral's plan to sink the Merrimack in the channel and prevent the Spanish fleet coming out to fight him? How about all that talk about his superior bottling process? Does that come in under his wonderful power of preconception.

Rather a Large Orger.
(Philadelphia Times.)
The story that the Kaiser will buy the Philippines is interesting even though palpably untrue. We paid Spain $20,000,000 for the islands and we have since spent $300,000,000 upon them. Just now the Kaiser's budget is showing no surplus, and it would be hard to figure out how he could make his deal without serious financial embarrassment.

CAN'T TRUST THEM.

By Harry Paul.

"Personally," said James Robinson, "I don't think I shall ever get married."
"You are somewhat young to come to so sad a decision," said the interviewer. "Possibly you have had some bitter personal experience of the sex which you would hardly care to submit to the cold gaze of the public."
"Don't you fret yourself about that. Anything I tell you you can use on the terms we arranged. And I should not take the risk of telling you anything I wanted you to keep to yourself. As to my being young, I may be, but I've seen a good bit of women. And I say you may possibly like them, and you may possibly admire them for some things, but I'm hanged if you can trust them."

"Dear me!" said the interviewer. "And I'm not so precious easy taken in as some chaps are. Now, there's Tilson—absolutely anything's good enough for him. I said to him one day, 'Take three triangles, all the same size, and arrange them so as to make the name of a well known cricketer.' He asked me not to tell him and said he believed he could do it. He made his triangles and got to work. Later on he came to me and said he was pretty certain the name was Fry and asked me if it wasn't. 'Well,' I said, 'that would be telling you nearly all of it.' So he wouldn't be told and said he'd bet he'd get it before the end of prep. All through prep. he was working at it as hard as he could. The triangles looked like Euclid at a little distance, so that he didn't get copped. Besides, you can do what you like in Piggy's prep."

"Piggy?" inquired the interviewer. "Figgitt—one of the masters—he's no good. Well, after prep. Tilson owned up that he couldn't do it. 'What?' I said. 'Can't arrange three triangles so as to make the name of a well known cricketer?' 'No,' said he. 'No more can I,' said I. 'And I never heard of anybody who could.' Then he chivied me, and we got into the bootroom and slung boots at one another until he sent one through the window. He was in a proper row, too, next day because he hadn't done any prep. Oh, you can always catch Tilson."

"Which things are in the nature of a digression," observed the interviewer. "Nature of a which? Well, I'm not like Tilson, and I know most catches. But I've been taken in by women more than once, and I don't trust any of them any more. Some time ago I used to get up to the sickroom just before going to bed. I'd got a cold and cough and a tickling in the throat, and the matron gave me lozenges that weren't bad—I've paid money down for things that weren't half so decent to eat. So I'd sit on the table and chew those lozenges and say that a day in bed would put me right—though that never came off. I used to talk, and she encouraged me to talk, and she used to talk herself. If I thought the grub wasn't quite up to the usual mark, I'd mention it. I'd make criticisms on the masters. I'd tell her about any special little lark we were having. And she used to listen to it all, and you'd have sworn she was on my side. Yet she used to pass the whole blessed thing on—peached regularly. There's a viper for you."

"Thus early does one learn discretion," observed the interviewer. "Not so blessed early either," said James Robinson. "I got done again after that. I didn't know then they were all alike. I thought that matron might be an exception. It was in the holidays when I was stopping at my uncle's at Salford. I've got three cousins there—all girls—and they'd got another girl, a friend of theirs, with them. Her name was Dora Lemaire. My uncle being the rector, he naturally took me into his choir, where they can't sing for bananas, and I do a solo for them on Sunday. That was the beginning, of course."

"Why?"
"Because all women are keen on anybody who sings or plays pretty well. This Dora Lemaire began to take a lot of notice of me. Consequently I began to take some notice of her. Some ways she wasn't bad."

"How old?"
"She was a bit older than me. Perhaps about twenty-five. But if she'd been all right in other ways I wouldn't have let that interfere. I killed a water hen with a catty (that's a thing I bet you've never done) and gave her the plumage for a hat. Played tennis with her, though she wasn't up to my class. Let her play my accompaniments. Exchanged photographs. Showed her how to make jumpers. Ran five miles to catch the post in the next village for her one night. She kissed me once. Everything seemed to be all right. And all that time she was making game of me to my cousins (I found that out from the youngest of them) and repeating particularly private things that I'd said to her and sort of jeering at me. What's more, she was engaged. And that letter I took to the post for her was to the man. She's married him now. When I was leaving, she wanted to kiss me again, but I wouldn't. No, you can't trust any woman. I've done with them."—Black and White.

GAS WELLS

To Be Put Down by New Company as Franchise in Mansfield Has Finally Been Secured.

As was specially announced in the Advocate on Wednesday evening the City Council of Mansfield by a vote practically unanimous, granted a franchise on Tuesday evening to Messrs. M. J. Flanagan and F. A. Bolton of this city, and Mr. T. J. English, formerly of this city, to lay gas pipes and mains in the city of Mansfield and furnish natural gas for consumption to the citizens of that place.

It has taken quite a fight to bring about this result, as a good many false representations were made by hostile parties to shut the Newark boys out of the field, but the right prevailed and the franchise was granted. The three grantees, Messrs. Flanagan, Bolton and English, are good fighters and as they had a good thing to offer they won out.

Mr. Flanagan informed an Advocate reporter today that it is the intention of the company to go to work at once and sink four or five additional wells in the Homer, Licking county, gas field, and to lay all the necessary pipes and mains from the gas field to the city of Mansfield. The company will push things as rapidly as possible and expect to have the wells sunk, the pipes laid and the gas burning in Mansfield inside of three or four months.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Cabbage and Potato Classes.
Many boys in German schools besides learning reading, writing and arithmetic study cabbages and potatoes. They spend whole afternoons in the school gardens. Many cities in Germany have set aside a plot of land not far from the school where all sorts of vegetables and plants are grown. Here the boys learn how to transplant trees and sow all kinds of different seeds. They learn why the cabbage is first cousin to the cauliflower, when turnips should be pulled and how to tell when a melon is ripe. They learn about the various kinds of weeds. Poison vines are grown, and the boys are taught to recognize them. Boys are thus inspired to start little gardens at home.

Boys in Germany go to school longer during the year than they do in America. There they have only four weeks of vacation in the summer, although they have two weeks at Christmas, two at Easter and two in October. The school gardens give the boys more outdoor life during the school term than American boys get. Every two weeks the gardener has a circular printed and distributed among the schools telling what plants are in bloom, what fruits are ripe, and so on, so that every child may see them.

Such gardens cost money, but the Germans believe that their children should be thoroughly trained in the schools. Bismarck, the greatest German, said, "The nation that has the schools has the future."

In France gardening is taught in 28,000 elementary schools, each of which has a garden attached to it. In Sweden even as far back as thirty years ago 22,000 children were receiving instruction in horticulture, and each of the 2,010 schools had for cultivation from one to twelve acres. In Russia many children are taught tree, vine, grain, garden, silkworm and bee culture.

A Perplexing Game.

Before beginning the game of neighbors it is necessary to inquire who knows it, for it cannot be played unless there is at least one person to whom it is new. When that person has been discovered—and in this there is a trick—he is sent out of the room, but before going he is told that the party will arrange to think of some object and that on his return he will have to find out what it is by questioning each person in turn, but framing his questions so that the answers may be "Yes," "No" or "I don't know."

After he has retired it must be explained to the players, who are seated in a circle, that each is to fix on his or her left hand neighbor as the object to be guessed, that all questions must be answered truthfully, having regard to that person. The result will be most bewildering; for they will be readily understood, the queries will lead to answers which will make "it" appear to be both dark and fair, man and woman, tall and short and a variety of other absurdities and contradictions.

Nuts to Crack.

Here is a list of questions for the wide awake boy or girl. Can you answer all of them? You can see any day a white horse, but did you ever see a white colt? How many different kinds of trees grow in your neighborhood and what are they good for? Why does a horse eat grass backward and a cow forward? Why does a hop vine wind one way and a bean vine the other? Where should a chimney be the larger, at the top or bottom, and why? Can you tell why a horse when tethered with a rope always unravels it, while a cow always twists it into a kinky knot? How old must a grapevine be before it begins to bear? Can you tell why leaves turn upside down just before a rain? What wood will bear the greatest weight before breaking?—Exchange.

Showing Her Knowledge.

A little girl from town was staying with some country cousins who live on a farm. On the night of her arrival she found to her mortification that she was ignorant of all sorts of things connected with farm life which to her country cousins were matters of everyday experience. She fancied they seemed amused at her ignorance. At breakfast the following morning she saw on the table a dish of honey and regarded this as an opportunity of retrieving her humiliating experiences of the night before and of showing her country cousins that she knew something of country life after all. So, looking at the dish of honey, she said carelessly, "Ah, I see you keep a bee."

Dolly's Complaint.

"I'm melancholy, Dolly; Too disconsolate for folly. For they've taken all my petticoats away. And they've rubbed me, and they've rubbed me; They've kneaded me and scrubbed me. Oh, who on earth invented washing day? For I don't like washing. I can't stand washing. And you wouldn't like it, I'll be bound. If, while your clothes were drying, Your nurse left you lying With not a rag upon you on the ground."

"And I really feel quite faint, For I've nearly lost my paint. With the rubbing and scrubbing that I've had. I believe I've got the cramp. And my sawdust's awful damp. And I'm feeling most uncomfortably bad."

"Then tonight they'll have a party And expect me to look hearty. While they strum the old piano, lithe and gay. But if this is why we get So miserably wet I'd rather far go dirty all the day. For I don't like washing."

"I can't stand washing. And you wouldn't like it, I'll be bound. If, while your clothes were drying, Your nurse left you lying With not a rag upon you on the ground."

FLYERS

MAY BE SEEN IN NUMBERS ON NORTH THIRD STREET.

Fine Sleighing Brings Out the Speedy
Fellows and Some Not So Fast.
Some Horses Clipped.

North Third street has developed into a veritable "speedway" and every afternoon during the present period of elegant sleighing, quite a number of Newark people who have fast horses, and a greater number that think they have, may be seen racing down the smooth straight course from St. Clair to Locust streets.

The contesting horses have, by a system of speed gravitation, dropped into various classes, from the speedy pacers and trotters who really have a burst of speed near 2:40 to those "skates" that could not negotiate the distance in less than 5:40. This classification makes the races very interesting, and it seems to be an unwritten law, that fair sportsmanship does not allow a horse with speed to get into a race in which he far outclasses the other contestants. This is true though there are no purses, the races being for pure sport, and no open gambling. Every afternoon there is a large crowd about the finishing point, who urge their favorites with great enthusiasm.

It is painful to note the fact that there are several alleged "sportsmen" who disgrace the name, who appear on the street with their horses closely clipped, with the thermometer hovering about zero. There can be no earthly excuse for this, except wanton cruelty in the heart of the owner. No good reason can be assigned for it. It does not make the horse look better, nor does it increase his speed, and it is patent to anyone that the poor animal suffers intensely with the cold.

If these men do not feel ashamed themselves, it may be said here, that it is the unanimous opinion of spectators and sensible horsemen that they are cruel, heartless, and foolish; cruel because they inflict unnecessary suffering on a dumb animal, foolish because the horse runs a great risk of catching cold—which may cause his death.

Sore Feet

Omega Oil is better for Sore, Tender, Tired Feet than foot powders, because it goes inside, where the pain is, while the powders stay outside. The Oil is such a simple remedy, and it is just as sure as it is simple. Bathe your feet at night with warm water and soap, wipe them dry and then rub Omega Oil in. Rub good and hard and often. That's all you have to do to make your feet well.

until illness came upon me three years ago. I first noticed it by being irregular and having very painful and scanty menstruation; gradually my general health failed; I could not enjoy my meals; I became languid and nervous, with gripping pains frequently in the groins.

"I advised with our family physician who prescribed without any improvement. One day he said, 'Try Lydia Pinkham's Remedies.' I did, thank God, the next month I was better, and it gradually built me up until in four months I was cured. This is nearly a year ago and I have not had a pain or ache since."—BOXING DELANO, 3249 Indiana Ave., Chicago, Ill.—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

AN APPEAL TO CARNEGIE

Asked to Found Home For Old Newspaper Men.

PLEA OF HENRY WATTERSON.

Kentucky Editor Urges Philanthropist to Divert Some of His Millions From Books to Aid Project In Behalf of Indigent "Soldiers of the Day and Night."

The Louisville Courier-Journal recently printed an editorial written by Henry Watterson entitled "To a Rich Man, Greeting," in which Mr. Watterson touches upon the proposed home for aged newspaper men and of Mr. Andrew Carnegie's connection therewith. Mr. Watterson says:

"Puck has a cartoon which Mr. Andrew Carnegie should seriously consider, and, by way of helping him along to a consideration on tangible lines. The Courier-Journal ventures to supplement the pencil of its hebdomadal coworker in the search for truth with a written word or two of still further suggestion.

Puck is tugging at the billionaire's sleeve to divert his attention from the maps to the mortals and is saying, as Mr. Carnegie seems to listen, not in reply: "Books are already so cheap and libraries so abundant that even the poorest man has all the literature he wants. Now, why not provide respectable homes for the people who are too old to work and who were never able to save anything from their scanty wages, and to keep them from beggary, starvation or suicide?" May Mr. Carnegie see and heed the admonition. But whether he does or not, God bless the boy that nursed the conceit and drew the picture! By delightful coincidence it is Keppeler the younger.

Mr. Watterson, then addressing Mr. Carnegie in the second person, says: "If you are surprised by the reading of these lines, be assured that those in whose interest they are delivered will be yet more surprised, for they are a sturdy, devil may care set, proud as Lucifer and may perchance at first blush be disposed to resent them. We speak in the name of those soldiers of the day and night whose life from the cradle to the grave is one long epic—great, heroic struggle—with destiny; that destiny whose mainspring is glory; that destiny which, begun in the love of letters and adventure, is to end only in victory or the poorhouse; that destiny which, for all its pitfalls of one sort or another, of drink too often, of the perils of the town in every shape, has vouchsafed some of them a glimpse of the nobility of truth for truth's sake, along with a little fleeting taste of fame, for many of them the sublime, all satisfying emotion of duty bravely done, for all of them the travail of the subaltern; that destiny which, unlike the service of the army and the navy, carries little promotion and no pension; in a word, the working boys on the force, the silent singers of the press, who, beginning at fifteen, to be no longer efficient at fifty, unless along the route they have secured some safe retreat.

This, then, Mr. Carnegie, is our speech to you. Divert some of those millions from books to men. Already a plot of ground has been purchased within easy reach of New York and Philadelphia and some progress made toward the raising of a fund to establish a home for disabled and superannuated newspaper men. There ought to be one of them for every geographical subdivision of the Union.

You, Mr. Carnegie, can make this possible. And you owe something to the press, do you not?

God bless you, Andrew Carnegie, but that God may bless you the more while you are here to enjoy the blessing and to see the good of it, do this thing. Make it the signal, the signet of your own house warning. Don't send us a check; come yourself. This is no child work, and, having given us the bread for God's sake, put some butter on it for Christ's sake!

And the dark shall be light. And the wrong be made right. And Bertram's right and Bertram's might shall meet on Ellegowan's height!

It also indicates in which direction each of the two trains is running, or if one of them is standing on the track that fact is indicated.

SALISBURY

Refers to the Dutch Note and Other Relevant Things in Afterdinner Speech.

London, Feb. 3.—The Premier, Lord Salisbury, unveiled a life-sized marble statue of the late Queen Victoria at the Junior Constitutional club. Speaking at a dinner after the unveiling, the premier referred to the recent Dutch note in a tone, for him, of unusual flippancy. He said that doubtless some of his auditors thought it a bit of luck to catch a cabinet minister and extract from him some information concerning that abortive crisis which had lately filled columns in the newspapers. He doubted, however, if they would extract much. For himself he was unable to imagine the object of the Dutch government, for whose friendly feeling he had the greatest admiration, but he could not see the precise object they hoped to gain by this curious step.

Premier Salisbury concluded: "It is useless to tell us to behave so as to leave a pleasant recollection in the minds of those with whom we are fighting. The only result that can compensate for the sacrifice of blood and treasure is that, for the future, there shall be security in that part of the empire upon which the ambition of Mr. Kruger has poured this abundance of sorrow and desolation." Lord Salisbury said he had no misgivings for the future.

MINERS

And the Operators—Former Stand by Their Original Demands—The Latter Would Compromise.

Indianapolis, Feb. 6.—A subcommittee is attempting to solve the scale contest between the mine operators and the United Mine Workers. It was instructed to report at the earliest possible moment to the general scale committee, which will then call together the joint conference to act on result. The operators in meetings of the joint scale committee have set their faces squarely against the 10 per cent increase and the run-of-mine and differential propositions, and have openly announced they would not recede from this position. The operators will, as a compromise, agree to the price for mining coal now in force for another year, and will grant the demand for an open powder market. On the other hand the miners, as reported, have served notice on the operators that there will be no abandonment of the demand for an increase of wage, absolute run-of-mine, the 7-cent differential between pick and machine mining and the uniform scale for all outside labor at the mines.

President at Charleston.
Washington, Feb. 6.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt and the party who will accompany them to the Charleston exposition will leave here for the south next Monday night in a special train over the Southern railway. The hour for departure has not been definitely fixed, but the train will reach Summerville, S. C., on Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday night will be spent at the Pine Forest Inn, Summerville, as the guest of Captain Wagner, president of the exposition. At this point the party will inspect the tea farms near by. On Wednesday the party will go to Charleston, spending the day in that city and at the exposition grounds. At night a banquet will be given the president and party at the Charleston hotel.

Condition of Troops.
Washington, Feb. 6.—Surgeon General Sternberg has received a report from Lieutenant Colonel Pope, chief surgeon of the division of the Philippines, in regard to the health of that command during the month ended Dec. 15. It shows a decrease in the percentage of sickness, which Colonel Pope says may be considered favorable in view of the long continuance of the rainy season and the active military operations in Samar and Batangas. The total number of deaths is 77, the same number as the previous month. Eleven soldiers died from wounds received in action and 16 were drowned. There were 2,437 cases of sickness. The strength of the command being 39,040, the percentage to the command was 6.21.

Yacht Hohenzollern.
St. Thomas, D. W. I., Feb. 6.—The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern, which left Kiel Jan. 18 and touched at Gibraltar Jan. 23, has arrived here. Admiral Count Von Buddissin, her commander, was seen on board the yacht. He said that the Hohenzollern had had an unusually fine voyage through the North sea, over the Bay of Biscay and the Atlantic, and that no incident of importance occurred during the trip. The admiral expressed pleasure at his approaching visit to the United States.

The increase in Germany's customs receipts from Kiau-Chan last year was 28 per cent. The total sum, however, was only $10,000.

RAILROADS.

Passenger Brakeman Ed Eberts, who was called to go north on train 17 this morning was suddenly taken ill with cramps and another man had to take his run.

To Meet Committee.
Cumberland, Md., Feb. 6.—It is stated here that General Manager Porter of the B. & O. railroad will meet the grievance committee appointed by the different brotherhoods, the latter part of this month to discuss the recognition question.

Mr. Dial Recovering.
John Dial the B. & O. switchman, who fell from the coal chutes in the yards and was painfully hurt is greatly improved and is getting along in fine style. Mr. Dial is a member of the American Protective Union, the new protective order recently organized here.

Special Shapes for Arches.
The Pennsylvania company construction department has selected special steel shapes for the support of concrete arches. For subways they bend sections of 30 pound rails in the form of a half circle, and these are secured by stone work at the base. The concrete arch rests on these supports making the structure substantial and enduring. The only doubt existing regarding the durability of concrete lies in the possibility of damage by contraction in winter and expansion in summer.

Strike Is Imminent.
It is reliably stated that a general strike of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, Railroad Conductors, Locomotive Engineers and the local Firemen on the B. & O. railroad especially along the Pittsburgh division, is imminent. The above information comes from a prominent member of one of the brotherhoods who said that the different brotherhoods had been notified that President Loree of the B. & O. had refused to recognize the above brotherhoods, giving his reason that the road was now under the control of a stone company—Columbus Dispatch.

Big Order for Typewriters.
The Pennsylvania railroad company is about to give one of the largest orders on record for typewriting machines. They propose to furnish all operators now using their own machines a new standard machine to be the property of the company, and for which the operator will be held responsible. Hitherto different machines had been in use and the writing varied accordingly and was a little confusing. With standard machines in use exclusively all confusion will be avoided, and uniform writing, reduced to a system will be the result. It is said that 2,000 machines will be needed between Altoona and New York. A typewriter inspector and repairer will visit the offices once a month and keep the machines in good condition, the company supplying ribbons and other things necessary.

SURPLUS CASH

TO BE DEPOSITED IN NATIONAL BANKS AT 2 PER CENT

According to This Bill—Affairs of Cuba—Urgent Deficiency Bills, News of Day in Congress.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Representative Pugsley of New York, a member of the house banking and currency committee, introduced a bill on the general lines of Secretary Shaw's letter, favoring the deposit of surplus government funds under certain conditions with national banks. The bill invests the secretary with wide discretion in the deposit or recall of treasury funds, but authorizes him to make deposits with national banks having not less than $100,000 capital and surplus of $100,000 of such portion of the surplus treasury funds above $50,000,000 as may seem proper to prevent absorption of money in the federal treasury.

The bill provides further that no one bank is to receive deposits of more than 50 per cent of its combined capital and surplus. Unless United States bonds are deposited as security, the banks shall pay interest on government deposits of not less than 2 per cent per annum. These deposits are made a first lien on bank assets. The bill specially provides that it shall not affect existing depositaries. The author of the bill estimates that the government surplus would be deposited with 800 banks instead of the comparatively small number now entitled to hold government funds.

An agreement was reached by the house of representatives whereby the omnibus bill will be brought to a vote on Friday. The debate continued in desultory fashion, without special interest, the speakers being Messrs. Klutz (N. C.), McCleary (Ill.), Eddy (Minn.) and Crowley (Ill.) for, and Messrs. Allen (Ky.), Scott (Kan.), Mcon (Tenn.) and Boutell (Ill.) against the bill. The bill will be laid aside temporarily to permit action on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills.

Urgent Deficiency Bill.
Washington, Feb. 6.—The senate had under consideration the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, and passed it substantially in the shape in which it was reported to the senate by the committee. The case of Judge Arthur H. Noyes of the district court of Alaska and Alexander McKenzie and others was discussed. Mr. McCumber of North Dakota delivered an elaborate speech in defense of Judge Noyes and Mr. McKenzie, incidentally he criticised the circuit court of appeals of San Francisco for permitting itself to be influenced by prejudice and bias. He became involved in a colloquy with Mr. Tillman, who said he appeared in the novel attitude of a defender of the United States judiciary. He contented himself practically with putting into the Congressional Record the decision of the circuit court of appeals of San Francisco in the cases of contempt against Noyes and McKenzie.

Senate Bills.
Washington, Feb. 6.—The following resolutions and bills were introduced in the senate: By Mr. Hoar, bill increasing the salaries of senators and members of the house to $7,500 and the salaries of the speaker of the house and the president pro tem. of the senate to $15,000 each. By Mr. Foraker, bill to amend the law requiring railroad trains to be equipped with automatic couplers so as to provide explicitly that it shall apply to all vehicles engaged in interstate commerce or those engaged in business in the territories. By Senator Mason, a bill providing for the transmission in the mails of sums of money of $1 or less by postage stamp certificates to be used in lieu of postage stamps.

Annexation of Cuba.
Washington, Feb. 6.—Representative Newlands (Nev.) of the ways and means committee, who was the author of the resolution annexing Hawaii, introduced a joint resolution inviting the republic of Cuba to become a part of the United States, first as a territory and then as a state of the Union, to be called the state of Cuba; also authorizing a 25 per cent reduction of duty on the present crop of Cuban sugar, in consideration of Cuba's granting preferential rates to the United States. The resolutions condition the 25 per cent reduction of duties to the period prior to Jan. 1, 1903.

Big Plant Consumed.
Chicago, Feb. 6.—The plant of the Wireton Heating Company at Wireton, 30 miles from this city, was completely destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $200,000. The company is a manufacturer of heating apparatus and had in its buildings a large quantity of machinery, all of which was practically ruined. The fire department from the town of Blue Island, two miles from Wireton, was called to the scene, but was unable to accomplish anything because of the lack of water.

Dangerous Blaze.
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 6.—A fire on Van Rensselaer Island, just outside of Albany destroyed $50,000 worth of property and narrowly escaped destroying the big storage plant of the Standard Oil Company. P. J. McArdie of New York is the heaviest loser.

SCHLEY CASE

Stated That the President's Response As Symptoms of Hydrophobia Had to the Appeal Will be Made Public on Saturday.

Washington, Feb. 6.—It is stated that the president's response to the appeal of Admiral Schley will be made public next Saturday. It is understood that the response will be adverse to Schley. A visitor at the White House, with whom the president talked upon the subject, quoted the president as saying that he thought the verdict of the majority of the court ought to be sustained.

Boer Delegates' Statement.
The Hague, Feb. 6.—As an outcome of conferences held here, the Boer delegates have issued a communique thanking the Dutch government for its efforts toward bringing about peace in South Africa, and denying the British statement that they have had no instructions from South Africa since March, 1900. The delegates affirm they possess plenipotentiary powers still in full force and declare that the reply of Great Britain to the Dutch note proves that the only object of the former country is the extermination of the Boer nation.

Dewett's Last Gun.
London, Feb. 6.—The British pursuit of General Dewett has been successful to the extent that his last gun has been captured, and Commandant Wessels, one of his principal lieutenants, has been round. Byng's column made the attack killing five Boers, wounding five and capturing 27 men, the last gun of Dewett's wing, three wagons of ammunition, 150 horses and 100 mules.

The town is in a state of wild excitement, over the discovery. This is the largest flow of gas ever struck in this section.

Coal Chute Collapsed.

DOG KILLED

Developed—Common Thing for Officers to Shoot Dogs.

Officers Zergiebel and Rinehart on Wednesday afternoon were called to South Sixth street to the Gorman residence, where there was a large dog snout in the cellar with all the symptoms of hydrophobia, having been bit about 10 days ago by a dog which was killed for rabies at that time. The officers experienced some difficulty in killing the dog, but he was finally despatched.

There is no question that there are dogs in the community which have well developed symptoms of "madness," and the community is constantly menaced by them. Every few days the police are called upon to kill a dog that is thought to be mad, and at the present time there are two Licking county people at the Pasteur institute in Chicago.

The practice of allowing dogs to run at large unmasked should be stopped, if every dog so found has to be killed.

RATLIFF

Says That Capt. Lyon's Story is All "Bosh"—Dayton Ohio Hospital Affair Again.

(Columbus Dispatch.)
Dr. Ratliff, superintendent of the Dayton State hospital, is out in an interview denying the story given to the press last week by former Trustee W. C. Lyon, of Xenia, to the effect that Dr. Ratliff had made large sums on the side—not less than $100,000 a year. He says the only money he ever made in three years ago when some counties were added to the Dayton district and others taken away. On that occasion he visited a number of infirmaries and examined patients. For this he charged fees, as he has a right to do, the total not exceeding six dollars.

Let us shake hands with a man, and we will tell you something about his health. The firm, hearty handshake of a vigorous man may be rather rough, so that one is taught he has a grip, but it indicates stamina. While denoting absence of tact and refinement, it points to physical strength. The flabby handshake that returns no pressure belongs to the person who has no great strength of body or mind. The quick, nervous handshake of an excitable, nervous temperament, and its opposite, the nerveless, passive one, belong to persons in ill health. The hand that threatens to collapse or give means fear. The feel of the hand called magnetic indicates health and kindness and a desire to help others. In many ways we may decide character by the handshake as well as by the brain.—London Doctor.

AGED WOMAN

Who Has a Son at Union Station, this County, Narrowly Escaped Freezing at Frazersburg.

Frazersburg, O., Feb. 6.—Mrs. L. A. Gist, an old lady living alone on First street, was found almost chilled to death last Monday morning. Mrs. Gist had gotten out of bed to put some coal in her stove, being badly crippled and in very poor health, and was unable on returning to bed to properly arrange the covering sufficiently to secure her person from the intensity of the weather. And had it not been for the timely assistance of some of her neighbors she would have died from the effects of the cold. Mrs. Gist has a son living near Union Station, who recently visited his mother, and made as he thought, suitable arrangements for the care of the old lady by securing the services of a lady who was in need of a home. All seemed to go well until last Friday when the woman left, leaving the old lady alone.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Toledo Commercial says. The People's theatre has one of the strongest attractions of the season in Porter J. White's production of Faust which opened yesterday afternoon and will be seen for the remainder of the week. The production is a decided novelty for the People's and while it was not received by the "gods" with the enthusiasm usually manifest, the run of the house was especially pleased to see such a high class production. An air of superiority pervaded the production from the first to the last curtain and it approached to a high degree of satisfaction the work of eminent artists who have made the standard drama famous.

The mechanical and stage devices, including all the effects, were perfect and operated in a faultless manner. The scenery and costumes were appropriate and beautiful throughout. The cast gave a competent interpretation of the parts, the work of the leaders being especially good. Mr. White's Mephisto found favor immediately. He is sufficiently satanic and his personification is eminently satisfactory. In the more difficult lines he is very strong.

Miss Olga Verne as Marguerite is a most versatile and refreshing actress. Her graceful demeanor, musical voice and pleasing face especially fits her for the part she takes. The remainder of the cast is good. Auditorium, Friday night, Feb. 7.

"Two Little Vagrants," probably the most successful melodrama since the production of "The Two Orphans," is booked for an early appearance in this city. Manager Edward C. White has given the Vagrants a handsome production and a competent company, including Neva Harrison, who plays Fan-Fan, is promised.

Frazzysburg, Feb. 6.—Saturday a number of the citizens of Frazzysburg and vicinity met at the town hall and led by Mr. A. J. Solomon of Columbus, Ohio, raised $25,000 for the purpose of starting a bank at this place. A few weeks ago Mr. Solomon came here and opened a private bank in the furniture rooms of Mrs. H. L. Stamets at the same time purchased a lot and at once began the erection of a building suitable for the purpose. Some of our representative men became interested and it was thought advisable to open up what is to be known for the present as The People's bank, of Frazzysburg. Arrangements are all made and on Thursday next at 2 p. m. a board of directors will be elected and the permanent organization effected, the ultimate purpose being a national bank. The work on the new building will be pushed as rapidly as the weather will permit.

CLERKS' UNION

In Mt. Vernon Decides to Come to Newark Next Labor Day—Other Unions to Follow.

(Mt. Vernon Banner.)

The members of the local union of city clerks decided at a meeting on Tuesday evening to go to Newark on next Labor day and help make the celebration in that city a success. At a meeting of the Electrical Workers held on Monday evening similar action was taken and it now looks as if most all the local unions are in favor of going to Newark next Labor day. At a meeting of the Clerks' Union held on Tuesday evening, Mr. Fred Lawman was initiated.

MR. FERGUSON

Takes Issue With Dr. King in Statements Made in His Article Published on Tuesday.

(Communicated.)

This is not intended as an "answer" to Dr. King's article in Tuesday's paper, for the main subject of which he treats is one in which we are not greatly concerned. He has shown, to his own satisfaction at least, that he knows more of God's ways and means than Mr. Parkhurst.

Man's condition after death is simply a matter of conjecture, of belief, and I cannot see why Mr. Parkhurst, or any other man's guess in the matter, is not as good as Dr. King's.

Does not a person make a mistake when he says he knows conditions after death will be such and such? What we know we can demonstrate. All evidence in the case is to the effect that we decay and, as beings, end. If the Bible "as a whole," is to be taken as a basis for our guess we reach the same conclusion, for it says "as a beast dieth, so dieth a man—he goeth hence and is no more." "The dead know not anything." &c. &c.

But my object is to ask Dr. King, by what authority he makes the assertion that "all noted skeptics on their death-beds shudder and appeal for mercy from God." Can he name an instance? Harv names do not constitute argument and all the misrepresentations of "Tom" (why not Thomas?) "Payne" have not answered his "Age of Reason." It is unanswerable, and few of the many who have tried to answer it have ever seen or read it. What evidence have you that Mr. Payne recanted and died a horrible death. Give us facts, Doctor, we should adhere closely to the truth when making statements concerning others, especially when the persons spoken of are not present to defend themselves.

O. T. FERGUSON.
